

Presented by The Mid-Atlantic Region Association for Asian Studies (MAR/AAS)
The University of Pennsylvania Center for East Asian Studies and the Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology, The Japan Foundation, Newark Museum
National Endowments for the Arts
The Council of Conferences of the Association for Asian Studies
Seton Hall University Department of Asian Studies and Asian Center

Teaching Asia Workshops, presented annually for the last decade and more, the Mid-Atlantic Region Association for Asian Studies wishes to increase K-12 teacher's understanding of Asia. This one-day workshop presents Asian culture, arts, languages and current affairs to improve education about the region. This year we have a workshop for Teaching Chinese Language. We welcome K-12 teachers from the greater New Jersey/New York area as well as nearby communities from the Mid-Atlantic region. Participants also are invited to attend the MAR/AAS Annual Conference at Seton Hall University on the following Friday and Saturday. Workshop registration for K-12 teacher includes luncheon on October 27, and registration on October 28-29 is $10.00. For questions, registration, or further information, please call Dr. Shigeru Osuka, MAR/AAS 2006 Conference Manager, at 973-275-2712, or e-mail to (osukashi@shu.edu).

CALL for Proposals for Annual AP Conference in Las Vegas

Please visit
<http://www.collegeboard.com/apac/2006/2007/index.html> for proposal form.

POSITIONS

CET Academic Programs is currently seeking candidates for our Asia Programs Coordinator position. Based in our Washington, DC office, the Coordinator works closely with students who are preparing to study abroad in China and Vietnam. This is an excellent position for someone hoping to begin a career in study abroad. Nearly all of our former Coordinators ultimately moved into positions of greater responsibility at CET.

We'd be grateful if you would share this announcement with your recent graduates who are seeking employment opportunities. A job description and application instructions can be found at the following site:

<http://www.cetacademicprograms.com/www/docs/12.165/>

Thank you and best wishes from Washington, DC.

Mark Lenhart (MLenhart@academic-travel.com)

MIT

Senior Lecturer in Chinese Language Fall 2007
Senior Lecturer in Chinese Language, appointed for five years with the possibility of renewal, beginning fall 2007 (appointment to begin July 1, 2007). Candidates must have proven record of excellence in language teaching, curriculum design, and the application of current technology to language education. Preference will be given to candidates with evidence of commitment to pedagogical innovation and the creation of technology-based projects. M.A. or equivalent and native or near-native proficiency in Mandarin Chinese is required.

MIT is an EO/AA employer and welcomes applications from women and members of minority groups. Please send letter of application, CV, samples of materials development (print or digital),