Developing Chinese Fluency is a rigorous skill-building program that seeks to systematically enhance the intermediate learners' vocabulary and help them achieve advanced level proficiency in the oral and written use of the language, while strengthening their reading and listening skills.

Designed with the ACTFL Oral Proficiency Guidelines and National Standards "5C"s in mind, the program combines innovative instructional approach and computer technology to efficiently develop learners' fluency in three progressive stages: Building Core Vocabulary, Building Expressive Power, and Building Paragraph Fluency. Materials are organized thematically to allow comprehensive coverage of key vocabulary in five core areas: Objects, People, Nature, Geography and City. Students will find a stimulating array of interactive classroom activities, technology-supported fluency drills and authentic target language readings that promotes acquisition and reinforces learning.

This program is designed for use at the intermediate and advanced college levels. It is also appropriate for heritage learners, high school students preparing for the AP Chinese exam, and individuals who are striving towards advanced level oral proficiency.
