

The University of Iowa is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

WOFFORD COLLEGE

Assistant Professor in Chinese,

The Department of Foreign Languages at Wofford College invites applications for a tenure-track position beginning in fall 2010 for Assistant Professor in Chinese Studies. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in hand by time of appointment in the field of Chinese literature, cultural studies, linguistics, or related subjects, and be native or near-native fluency in Chinese and English. Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate ability and commitment to teach Chinese language at all levels of an undergraduate curriculum in the USA. Specific responsibilities include teaching three courses per semester as well as collaborating with other faculty in the development of the major in Chinese and the minor in Chinese Studies. Two of the three courses are in Chinese language and one is in the candidate's area of specialization.

Please send letters of application, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, three letters of recommendation, with at least one letter addressing the candidate's performance in the classroom, and other supporting materials to Chinese Search Committee/CO Dr. Dennis Wiseman, Chair of Department of Foreign Languages, Wofford College, 429 North Church Street, Spartanburg, SC 29303-3663.

Review of applications will begin April 10, 2010 and will continue until the position is filled. Wofford College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Minority and female candidates are encouraged to apply.

UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII AT MANOA

Assistant Professor of Chinese

University of Hawaii at Manoa, College of Languages, Linguistics and Literature, Department of East Languages and Literatures, invites applications for a tenure-track, full-time, 9-month Assistant Professor of Chinese, position number 83396. Appointment to begin August 1, 2010 or at a later date, renewable subject to performance in research, teaching, and service.

Duties: Teach undergraduate courses in Chinese language and linguistics and graduate courses in Chinese descriptive linguistics (department's basic teaching load is 15 credit-hours/year); advise undergraduate and graduate students, conduct and publish research in Chinese language and linguistics, participate in departmental and university service.

Minimum Qualifications: PhD in Chinese linguistics in hand at time of hire. Demonstrated expertise in Chinese descriptive linguistics (phonology or syntax) or related field. Demonstrated research and publication in Chinese language and linguistics. Near-native fluency in Chinese (Mandarin) and English.

Desirable Qualifications: Experience in teaching Chinese language and/or linguistics at the college level. Experience in teacher training and supervision. Linguistic knowledge of additional East Asian languages. Ability to teach and direct research in comparative linguistics between Chinese and another East Asian language or a Chinese dialect. Ability to teach courses and conduct research in historical linguistics.

Salary: Commensurate with experience and qualifications. To apply: Submit a hard copy of a CV and a cover letter indicating how you satisfy the minimum and desirable qualifications and three recommendation letters.

Application address: Dr. Alexander Vovin, Interim Chair, Department of East Asian Languages and Literatures, University of Hawaii at Manoa, 1890 East-West Road, Moore Hall 382, Honolulu, HI 96822. Review of applications will begin on April 10, 2010. The search will continue until the position is filled.

The University of Hawaii is an equal opportunity/affirmative action institution. UH does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national or ethnic origin, age, disability or veteran status.

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Full-time instructor in the Chinese language

The Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures at the University of Southern California invites applications for a full-time instructor in the Chinese language beginning in the fall of 2010.

The Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, in the College of Letters, Arts & Sciences, provides students with a well-rounded education on East Asia by focusing on the study of the languages, linguistics, literature, thought and civilizations of China, Japan and Korea. The Department offers both graduate (Ph.D. and